No flag but the Old Flag—the Red, White and Blue,
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true!
Arise and defend it ye sons of the brave,
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JUNE 24, 1863.

By Telegraph.

The dispatch this morning affords some relief to anxious and fearful souls, such as most of us are apt to have. It is not so bad as it might be, but a good deal worse than it ought to have been if reasonable care and diligence had been exercised by those who had power and authority to act. The Pennsylvania raid seems to be over, unless revived in a westerly direction—the people of the North have had a wholesome scare, and doubtless felt as if they had been struck by lightning—much patriotism has been evoked and developed—Gov. Seymour now seems to have forgotten Vallandigham and remembered the peril of Pennsylvania—Gen. McClellan was on hand—and there must have been an excited, solemn and anxious time generally.

Hooker is taking care of Washington, while Richmond is said to be deserted and would be an easy prey to some active patriot who would slip up and seize it. Is there none such?

The Democracy have been holding secession conventions in Ohio and Pennsylvania, and passed resolutions base and disloyal enough to satisfy the King of Dixie, to whom that kind of Democracy belongs.

Vicksburg is still on the Mississippi, and her besiegers are in close vicinity—it is not their fault that they are kept outside of her limits. No demonstration on the part of the rebel chief "who had pickets ten miles deep all round," seems to have been of sufficient account to have been reported, so we do not suppose that Grant begins to turn pale. We shall have good news from Vicksburg in a day or two. We would be glad of the same from Port Hudson, but as that place is farther off, we have concluded to wait a little longer, though feeling sure that Banks with his usual undefeated good fortune, will before many days wear "Port Hudson" as a proud trophy on his banner.

Gold—the popular thermometer—is still in a temperate place, and not much disturbed by all the wild excitements and noisy blasts—political and military—which have filled the air.

A TRIP THROUGH DIXIE.—Recently, three correspondents of New York dailies, with Grant's army, were captured and carried through several Confederate cities to Richmond. One of them has been released, and has published an interesting account of the adventures of the party. We have room, however, only for the conclusions to which he came, which seem to us credible and consistent with recent reliable information from the South:

The conclusion formed in a three weeks' sojourn within the limits of the Confederacy, and a trip almost across the entire extent, by a circuitous route that led almost down to the Gulf, then up again through the mountains of East Tennessee to Richmond, and along the valley of the James, may be thus briefly summed up:

First—The people are brave, determined, and in the main united.

Second—There may be temporary suffering for want of sufficient food, but starvation is impossible.

Third—Although they can never probably have their army again at as high a number as now, as the material for conscription is almost exhausted, yet as the war has been conducted thus far, their military resources are sufficient to keep up the struggle for two years more.

Fourth—Their strength is thrown entirely to the frontier, and if that frontier line were once pierced; if our Generals then begin to do their duty, the whole fabric of rebellion will be toppling down like a house built of cards.

Fifth—Union and perseverance at the North are what the rebels most dread. Their greatest hope lies in our division, and their greatest encouragement is derived from the conduct of such men as Vallandigham. He is regarded there as a martyr to the Southern cause, and they are convinced that he must have a considerable portion of the Northern people at his back.

UMATILLA.—Messrs. T. Myers and A. W. Case, just arrived from Umatilla, inform us that this new location is growing wonderfully. There are now fifty-three buildings, thirteen of which were erected during the four days that these gentlemen were there. Very little regard is paid to the pretended title of the proprietor, Mr. Lurchin, as any one who wishes a lot just naturally jumps it. Packers are crowding into the place, and profess a great preference for the route thence to the mines over all others.

FROM BOISE.—Mr. Scott, just in from Boise, brings the following from that region:

Reports had reached Placerville and Bannock City of the discovery of very rich mines on the Malheur river.

A silver lode, which is thought by the discoverers and those who have seen specimens of the ore, to be very rich, has been discovered on the Owyhee, or Malheur. Parties were leaving Boise to secure interests in the lode, sanguine that they would reap a rich reward.

A band of Indians made a descent last week upon a party of miners on Burnt river and robbed them of 200 head of horses. An effort was being made to raise a party to go in pursuit of the Indians.

At Placerville, water was becoming scarce in the mines. At the Bannock City mines water is plenty.—Washington Statesman.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to June 16th.

HARRISBURG, June 17th.—Dispatches from Shippingburg, eleven miles this side of Chambersburg, to midnight, show that the rebels are still at the latter place in force with cavalry and infantry, said to number 20,000.—Gen. Jenkins, who commands the rebels, ordered all the stores to be opened, which was complied with. The merchants were forced to take Confederate money in payment for goods. Rebel cavalry to-day occupied Littletown, 11 miles from Gettysburg. The rebel officers at Chambersburg stated that they were only waiting for infantry to move forward. The authorities are inclined to believe however, that they will not move further North.

Telegraph communication with Harper's Ferry is still open, and as near as ascertained all is quiet along the line. Harper's Ferry is invested by the rebels on the Virginia side. We have a large force on Maryland Heights, which is strongly fortified.

The Baltimore City Council, yesterday, appropriated $400,000 for bounties. Enlistments are going on.

PHILADELPHIA, June 17th.—A special dispatch, dated Harrisburg, midnight, says our reporter who returned from the front, reports rebel pickets 47 miles from Harrisburg. The rebels were encamped at three points around Chambersburg and were 35,000 strong, under Jenkins.

The citizens were at first allowed to leave, but afterwards they were refused.

A letter from Harrisburg, dated at noon yesterday, says a train of 100 wagons which left Martinsburg, Va., Sunday 14th, arrived safely. Col. Smith's command at Hagerstown had a fight of two hours yesterday, 15th, when he was surrounded and forced to surrender.

ALBANY, June 17.—Gen. McClellan is here for the purpose of aiding Gov. Seymour in organizing and forwarding troops for the defense of the Pennsylvania frontier. Thousands have already been received and are beginning to move forward.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—A committee from Harrisburg waited on the President last night, urging him to authorize Gen. McClellan to issue a call for volunteers to repel the invasion of the free States. Those recently mustered out of service, to a man, would undoubtedly respond to it, when a large army of veterans would thus be suddenly improvised.

NEW YORK, June 27.—The Herald's Baltimore dispatch dated at ten o'clock last night, says the rebel movement now in progress toward the North, is being made by Lee's whole army.

Martinsburg, Pa., is in possession of Ewell. Lee's force engaged in this movement is fully 98,000.

PHILADELPHIA, June 17.—A Washington dispatch says our cavalry has been skirmishing with Lee's rear guard for two days. It does not look as though the rebels intended giving battle on the old Bull Run ground.

Our forces evacuated Frederick, Md., and that vicinity, and fell back to the Relay House this morning. No enemy pursuing, they have returned to Frederick with strong reinforcements. Lee's army is moving on a larger line than Hooker, but has not out marched him as yet. Hooker was at Fairfax Court-house this morning, the 16th. It is believed that Harper's Ferry can be held against any force the rebels can bring.

Gen. Hooker is hastening with his entire army to the defense of Washington, and will occupy a position best adapted to the defense of the place.

Lee undoubtedly has an immense force between Washington and Culpepper. Those left at Fredericksburg, numbering nearly 20,000, will probably be added to that army as soon as possible.

NEW YORK, June 17.—Special dispatches say the march from Falmouth to the present position of the army was severe on the troops, many of the soldiers failed from the effect of the heat.

Richmond, for the present, is abandoned, with the expectation that conscripts and new levies can be brought in sufficient numbers to garrison the defences.

It is expected that a force of from 20,000 to 30,000 sympathizers will be in readiness in Maryland to co-operate with the rebel column.

PHILADELPHIA, June 17th.—The Enquirer's letter, dated Bull Run, Va., 15th, says the Grand Army of the Potomac is now near the old Bull Run battle ground. The 3d army corps arrived at Manassas Junction, Monday. The 1st and 11th corps are at Centerville, the rest of the army consisting of the 2d, 5th, 6th and 12th army corps will probably reach here to-night.

Second Dispatch.

NEW YORK, June 18th.—Sterling, 157; gold opened at 43, advanced to 45¼, and closed steady at 44¼.

HARRISBURG, June 18th.—The rebels under Jenkins evacuated Chambersburg at 1 o'clock yesterday. The authorities here now have telegraphic communication with Chambersburg. During the rebels stay all private property was respected, except horses, cattle and common necessaries of life. Jackson's division, under Ewell, is at Hagerstown. Imboden was at Chambersburg with two regiments infantry and one regiment of cavalry. Wheeling may be his destination. Fortifying is still going on here.

WASHINGTON, June 18th.—Reports say the rebels have a force of 8000 at Williamsport, Md. Kelly telegraphs that Imboden is before Cumberland with thirteen regiments, and a battery. Passengers from Elliottsburg say there are no rebels in that direction. Passengers from Frederick, Md., report only a few rebel pickets at Hagerstown.

BALTIMORE, June 18th.—The rebels invested Harper's Ferry on the 16th, and attempted to surprise Gen. Tyler. The latter repaired to Maryland Hights, and rebels retreated to Williamsport. Tyler reoccupied his former position. Rebels tore up the railroad, and damaged the canal. Travel is resumed between Harper's Ferry and Baltimore. Report says rebels left Chambersburg, and are not at Westminster,—a small force is at Hagerstown. A rebel letter captured, says the rebel cavalry is en route for Pittsburg, Pa.

HARRISBURG, June 18th.—Troops from the State are arriving rapidly.

The Democratic State Convention nominated Geo. W. Woodward for Governor, and Walter Lowrie for Judge of the Supreme Court.

It is believed there are no rebel troops in the State now. Jenkin's cavalry was at Hagerstown last night; no infantry with him.

McCONNELSVILLE, Va., June 17.—Stragglers from the late fights bring news up to last night from below. They say the rebels, 8,000 strong, crossed the river at Williamsport and are marching on Hancock, Md., where 1,500 of Milroy's routed troops were collected, who being demoralized fled on the reported advance of the rebels.

NEW YORK, June 18.—A large English steamer attempted to run the blockade at Charleston, and was fired into and sunk. She is a total loss.

Positive information says the rebel army of the Potomac is 120,000 strong.

CHICAGO, June 18.—The Republican Convention of Ohio yesterday nominated John Brough for Governor. Col. Wm. M. Stone was nominated for Governor of Iowa by the Republicans yesterday.

VICKSBURG, June 13.—The rebel batteries are almost silent on all sides. Only a few riflemen are firing on our sappers. The bombardment is progressing vigorously. We have some guns in position now which throw shells over the river. Deserters say the men and line officers are discontented, and only holding off from desertion thinking they will be honorably discharged.

CHICAGO, June 18.—The Democratic mass meeting at Springfield yesterday was largely attended. The resolutions demanded the release of Vallandigham and others arrested by the military authorities; denounce secession, and declare that the further offensive prosecution of this war tends to subvert the Constitution and the Government and entails upon the nation all the disastrous consequences of misrule and anarchy; favor peace on a Union basis, and for the accomplishment of which purpose propose a National Convention upon terms of peace which shall have in view the restoration of the Union as it was, and securing by constitutional enactments such rights to the several States and people thereof as honor and justice demands.

Letter from Boise Mines.

PLACERVILLE, Idaho Ter'y, June 7, 1863.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

We had a man for breakfast this morning in this flourishing village. His name was Hickey—Christian name unknown, but of course supposed to be Patrick. He was slain by an elderly sporting gentleman known as "Uncle Andy," but irreverently called by certain precocious youngsters, Snapping Andy. However, those who are disposed to jest about the old gentleman, generally do it while he is absent. Hickey was a fighter, and something more; it is generally thought; so he started after Uncle Andy, following him from house to house, using approbrious epithets, until, patience ceasing to be a virtue, Uncle Andy, at last, picked up a pick handle and struck his pursuer one on the cranium, killing him as dead as the most remote of his Celtic progenitors is at this moment. Thus perished another of the desperadoes. Let it be inscribed on the clap-board which may be placed at the head of his grave, "Died with his boots on." Uncle Andy is generally, I may say unanimously, acquitted by the community.

But all this is not telling you how I got to Boise, and about the diggings; which I will proceed to do, and in so doing will commence at the beginning and tell you what I saw and heard on the road and in the mines; and about what I am now seeing and hearing daily.

FROM WALLA WALLA TO BOISE.

Starting from Walla Walla to Boise, in company with three others, we reached Wild Horse creek the first night. The next day we crossed the prairie to the Umatilla, which was fordable. It is a stream seventy-five feet wide and two or three feet deep at the ford. Here we commenced to ascend the Blue Mountains, the distance to the summit being three miles. From thence along the top of the Mountains, over a somewhat broken country, it is twelve miles to Lee's Encampment.—Thirteen miles of very broken country lies between this place and Dry Creek, and six miles of still worse road brought us to the Grand Ronde river. From the crossing of this stream, it is twelve miles to La Grande, a small village of twenty-five houses at the foot of the mountains, in Grand Ronde valley.—Not stopping to examine the beauties of this valley, we crossed it in eight miles of travel, and again ascended the Blue Mountains, and again descending them reached the North Fork of Powder river in eighteen miles. In five miles more we reached the South Fork of Powder river, and struck out across the desert to the waters of Burnt river,—the first good camp being twenty-five miles distant. In the middle of the desert one of my companions raised himself in his stirrups, and looking all around, said: "My God! what a desert place. I could not wish my worst enemy buried in such a place as this." No nor would I, and I will say that I am a pretty good hater as times go. There are several pools of brackish water on this desert, but only one that is tolerable—distant eighteen miles from the last crossing of Powder river.

On Burnt river the feed is good. The distance down this river and its tributaries is forty miles, and in that distance a wayfarer may be sure of meeting as many rattlesnakes as in any similar distance in the world. The rattles of these hideous reptiles are heard every few minutes; the air appears to be scented with rattlesnake venom, and the water tastes like a weak decoction of rattlesnake broth. The people who live on the river say, that the snakes are not numerous just at that point, but down the river there are quite a number.

"Never was on the Malheur, were you stranger?" asked a settler on Burnt river.

"Never had that pleasure," we replied.

"Talking about rattlesnakes, there ain't none over there; why, sir, if they were all raked together, you could fence in the bottom lands of that stream, with a fence seven snakes high, snaked-and-ridered."

"Do we have to pass through the valley of the Malheur?" anxiously enquired one of my companions.

"No but you have got to go up Snake river, where the rattlesnakes are so thick that my horse cut one in two as he gallopped along the road."

"Is there no way to keep them from crawling into our beds, when we spread our blankets on the ground?" I asked.

"Oh yes, just make your bed on the ground and then climb up into a tree and hang out with a lariat rope; you will be perfectly safe, always provided a scorpion does not drop down and sting you."

"Scorpions! why they are poisonous," said one of our party.

"Oh, not particularly," rejoined the settler. "One of our boys got stung in such a manner that he couldn't sit down for a month or so, but it did him good; he was always sitting around before that, doing nothing, and now he is entirely broke of his indolence."

Here an Irishman broke in: "Don't say another word, if you don't want to scare me so that I'll niver get to Bi-ce."

So thus closed the rattlesnake conversation; but whenever one of the party dismounted he walked as gingerly as if he was stepping on a road paved with rattlesnakes. Some procured long switches and beat the brush to make the snakes spring their rattles. Hurrying through the rattlesnake district, in one day we reached Snake river, above the mouth of Burnt river, by crossing a low dividing ridge four miles in width. Along the banks of this stream the prospect was dreary, and we travelled thirteen miles to Tub Springs without water; keeping on without stopping, in eighteen miles we came to the [illegible] Ferry on Snake river, a few miles above the Payette. Crossing at this point we travelled sixty miles up the Payette to the Horse-shoe Rancho, and made the passage of the Payette Mountain in fifteen miles to Placerville, by the new pack-trail of Thatcher & Co., which is the shortest and best route to travel. Perhaps, if time serves, I may give you a description of the country through which we passed on our road to the mines; but at present I shall content myself with a description of—

THE DISTANCE FROM THE SOUTHERN FOOT OF THE BLUE MOUNTAINS TO PLACERVILLE.

From foot of Blue Mountains	to Lee's Encampment,	15 miles
From thence	to Dry Creek	13
" "	to La Grande	18
" "	across Grand Ronde valley	8
" "	to Tho. Goodell	15
" "	to South Fork of Powder river	2
" "	to the Straw Ranch	31
" "	to Express Ranch	9
" "	to Snake River	30
" "	to Tub Springs	13
" "	to [illegible] Ferry	18
" "	to Horse-shoe Ranch	60
" "	to Placerville	15
Total		253

Add fifty miles for the distance from the foot of the Blue Mountains to Umatilla Landing, and forty from the same point to Walla Walla, and the table is complete.

A WORD ABOUT THE MINES.

Hereafter I purpose to give you a full account of these mines, but at present content myself with remarking that there were no disappointed, returning miners on the road; no growling miners in the mines; no doubt expressed right on the ground that the Boise mines are the best now being worked. If several hundred very respectable persons have not conspired to deceive your correspondent, these mines are rich, extensive and surrounded by every desired facility for their development, and blessed with a beautiful climate.

ANOTHER MAN KILLED.

"Spanish Rube," a monte-dealer, was killed at Fort Hog'em to-day, by a man named Maguire. Details have not come to hand.

MORE ABOUT THE HICKEY HOMICIDE.

Hickey's christian name was Jerry,—Uncle Andy's name is McKay. He had designated Hickey as a road agent,—so Hickey said—at Lewiston, and hence the row. It is very likely that this is the true cause of the fight, as the old man is in the habit of speaking his mind pretty freely about such matters.

Scrofula Cured.

NEW ALBANY, Ind., September 25, 1859.

MESSRS. A. L. SCOVILL & CO.—Gents: In answer to your inquiries about the cure of my son, I will say that he is now ten years of age and has been SCROFULOUS FROM INFANCY, although under the care of our best physicians, who said that he could cure him. In the first place the disease made its appearance in small knots upon the glands of his neck, and finally they ulcerated and formed running sores, which reduced him almost to a skeleton. He lost his appetite, and we gave him up, and thought that he could not be cured. I got DR. MOTT'S LIVER PILLS, following the directions. He had used them but a short time before he was greatly relieved, and now is entirely well. Yours truly, ROBERT STILE.

EXPECTORANT
AND SANATIVE PILLS

HAVE BEEN BEFORE THE PUBLIC SO LONG and found such general favor in every region of country where they are been used, (and there is no place in the civilized globe where they have not been ...) that it would seem almost superfluous at this time to direct attention to them through the medium of the press. Yet it is due to suffering humanity, and especially to that numerous class who in the changeable climate of the Pacific Coast, suffer from inducing and ending in CONSUMPTION, many of whom may not have used this remedy, that they should be allowed to read of some of the cases where its influence has been useful in remedying complaints from which they are suffering. The EXPECTORANT

Operates immediately upon the Disease,

SURELY AND SPEEDILY ERADICATING IT

while the SANATIVE PILLS by preserving regularity in the Bowels, and giving a healthful tone to the other internal organs aid and assist the perfect operation of the Expectorant.

Attention is asked to the following Certificates selected at random from the mass in the possession of the proprietors.

UPPER UWCHLAN, Chester Co. Pa., Sept. 18, 18..

Dr. D. JAYNE—Having been afflicted with ASTHMA and BRONCHITIS, and having the advice of some of the most eminent physicians, whose skillful treatment of my case did not prove to be of any avail, I obtained no relief from my suffering until I commenced the use of your EXPECTORANT. After taking it for about three months I was entirely cured. NATHAN PENNYPACKER.

ASTORIA, Long Island, Nov. 26, 1860.

L. W. TINKLE, Esq., New York—Sir: As you well know I had been afflicted with BRONCHITIS accompanied with the most painful tightness of the chest and great difficulty in breathing for nearly two months and I had almost lost all confidence in the power of medical science, when at your friendly suggestion I began the well known ... EXPECTORANT of Dr. Jayne of Philadelphia. Three or four days after having commenced to take it my cough had nearly subsided, the expectoration was easy and the breathing quite free. I am now quite another man and my general health has never been better. I remain, my dear Tinkle, with esteem, your servant and friend, J. E. MONTE.

WINFIELD, Tuscarawas Co. O., May 31, 1860.

Dr. D. JAYNE—Dear Sir: One bottle of your Expectorant cured my daughter of the LUNG FEVER, after having been beyond the hopes of recovery. During the attack she had a number of convulsions. She is now perfectly well. J. H. COFFMAN.

BONHANTON, Bradford Co. Pa., July 21, 1860.

Dr. D. JAYNE—Dear Sir: My son was for the last half years still ... with a disease resembling CONSUMPTION. For two years he was not able to labor. He was finally induced to try your EXPECTORANT and PILLS, and after taking 10 bottles and some PILLS was completely cured and is now able to labor every day. JOHN HENRY.

We would add to the above that we sold to Mr. Henry the medicine for his son, and know that the statement is true. MERRY, WILHELM & CO.

For a greater number and variety of certificates, and fuller information regarding these and other Dr. D. Jayne and Sons' Preparations, reference is given to the ANNUAL ALMANAC which may be had from any Druggist or Dealer in Medicines.

The value of a Sewing Machine cannot be estimated by the amount of wood, iron, brass or steel used in its construction, but by the manner in which these materials are put together, and the quantity and quality of the work it turns off. They make a tight lock stitch, alike on both sides of the work, which cannot be ravelled.

DR. BAKER'S PAIN PANACEA.

Is composed entirely of healing gums, and vegetable oils and herbs. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can most sincerely say that I have never known any however delicate to be injured by it in the least. I will continue to ask the afflicted who have not used it to try it for the following diseases. If they are not satisfied with its healing properties the money will be cheerfully returned by the agent where the medicine is for sale.

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels, try a dose of Pain Panacea internally, bathe externally over the parts affected, and you will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound, bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time.

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains, apply the Pain Panacea freely, and take a dose of it internally morning and night. It will not only cure the pain, but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have the Dyspepsia, and your food distresses your stomach after eating, take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal.

If you have a Cankered or Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day.

If you have the Diarrhoea, or a relaxed state of the bowels, take a dose of Pain Panacea, and they will soon be restored. If you have a painful swelling, bathe the parts freely, and you will soon relieve pain, and the swelling will be reduced.

If you have a severe tooth-ache, apply the Pain Panacea on a piece of cotton and bathe the gum at the same time, it will stop the pain instantly.

If you have a pain in the Breast, Side, Back or Kidneys, bathe parts affected morning and night, at the same time take a dose of the Panacea internally.

If a Mother has a caked breast, apply the Panacea as hot as it can be borne.

If you feel chilly or cold, as though you were going to have a fever, take a dose of Panacea.

If you have a wound, cut, or galls upon your horse, apply the Pain Panacea. It will take out all the inflammation and heal the sore in a short time.

The Patent Rag Chewer.

In a village not many hundred miles from Boston there is a paper mill, which attracts no small share of attention from the curious, and elicits many a visit, as all are of course anxious to see the process of converting old rags into paper. It sometimes happens that these crowds of admirers of the marvelous contain among their number some of those real matter-of-fact kind of fellows, who like to know something of causes as well as effects, which may be illustrated by the following dialogue which recently occurred:

'I say, stranger, how do you get them ere rags fine enough for making paper?'

'We have men employed to chew them, sir,' replied the paper man.

'To what?'—to chew them, did you say?'

'Yes, to chew them, to be sure! Did you never hear of chewing rags to make paper?'

'No, I never did, and would like to know what kind of wages you give, case I'se got a little the best set of teeth you ever did see,' said the green 'un, grinning, gnashing at the same time, in the way of exhibition, with a fury that made the jesting proprietor quake lest the joke should turn upon himself, in the form of a personal combat.

'I see, I see,' replied the paper man, stepping back. 'I never saw a better set of teeth for business. Well, we give experienced hands $2 50 per day, and young beginners we give $2. Do you think you would like the business, sir?'

'Yes, sir-ree, and the wages, too,' replied the other with delight.

'Very well, you may set in now for a month, and at the expiration of that, we no doubt will raise your wages. Here, you may commence on this'—handing an old saddle-blanket to his much delighted applicant, who took it, and sat down to his task with as much sang froid as an epicure would to a well roasted piece of beefsteak.

'I say, old pard, do you think that ere blanket will stand by me any time at all? Why, I could chew it all smash up and swallow it before you could think to tell what time the sun sets by the almanac.'

He set to work like a juvenile steam engine, his heavy teeth grinding as if they were mill-stones, the dust flying, but desperately intent on earning good living wages, though the labor was decidedly bad living. With the voracity of a Bengal tiger, and a spirit worthy of a better cause, the martyr to the progress of science continued his task, wondering beyond expression in his own mind how many hands, or rather how many sets of teeth, it took to do the chewing of that 'tarnation big mill.' But it was in vain that the heavy jaws wagged, and the sharp teeth crushed—the pile of chewed rags did not seem to grow very fast; and to add to the machine's rising feelings of indignation, a crowd began to gather round to witness the singular spectacle of human opposition to the rag-breakers, shaking the whole building from another department.

'What in darnation are you gapin at?' at last exclaimed the rag-chewer through a mouthful of rags in a state of mastication, 'Drat ye, thar is fifty rag-spilin machines like me up stairs, all in a bunch. Why don't you go up and see them?'

The crowd looked very much delighted, and expressed themselves highly pleased with his performance.

'I know, that I can't go it like them fellers up stairs, for my grinders aint used to it; besides, I don't believe horse-blankets is good to start on. But I tell you, strangers, when it comes to vittals or tobacker, I'm thar.'

The fun began to rise, and with it the rag-chewer's indignation. 'See here, stranger,' he bellowed, spitting out his last attempt, and hallooing at his employer, who had just appeared, 'blamed to blamenation, if I'm going to sit here and be laughed at in this here way! If you don't put me up stairs among the rest of 'em, I won't chew up another blanket—darned if I do!'

'What!' exclaimed the employer, with a sober face and very indignantly, 'is that all you've chewed up? And wet, too, by thunder! Get out of this—you'll never do for this business in the world. There's a blanket ruined to all eternity, too, for you've wet every mouthful, and how can we make dry paper out of wet rags? Come, move yourself in a hurry!'

The victim did not await a second invitation, but went off in all speed for fear he should be called upon to pay for the blanket, and fully determined hereafter to stick to his lawful business, and let paper mills alone.

A young lady, employed in teaching a district school somewhere in Ohio, wished to open the school with prayer, and for that purpose asked the consent of the trustees. It was given readily on one condition, that the prayer should not be 'sectarian.' The condition was accepted. After some weeks the school mistress was summoned to attend the trustees.

Complaint had been made that the daily prayer, contrary to conditions, was 'sectarian.' The young lady had no knowledge of the charge. She asked for the specifications. A grave trustee arose and stated that he was sorry to be obliged to testify that he himself had heard a 'sectarian' prayer while visiting the school.

'Well, what was it?'

'It was an Episcopal prayer. He had read it in the Episcopal Prayer Book.'

'Impossible,' was the reply. 'Repeat it; what was it?'

'Well, he couldn't say it all, but it was the prayer that began, 'Our Father which art in heaven.'

An Iowa Democrat on Copperheads.—Gen. M. M. Crocker, always a democrat, formerly Colonel of the 13th Iowa Infantry, promoted to Brigadier General for distinguished services in the field, and now commanding a brigade of Iowa troops near Vicksburg—one of Iowa's noblest sons, thus writes to a friend in this city on hearing that Davenport had elected the whole Union ticket at the municipal election:

"I am glad that you have got the upper hand of the copperheads—the poor, miserable, cowardly, sneaking, boot-licking wretches. You can say to them that the patriots of the country will substitute for them the negroes that are now being enrolled into regiments; for my part, I think them altogether preferable, and infinitely whiter."—Davenport Gazette.

Human Nature.—They tell a good story of two bachelors down East, who lived a sort of cat-and-dog life, to their neighbors' discomfort, for a good many years, but who had been at campmeeting, were slightly converted, and both of them concluded to reform.

'Brother Tom,' says one, when they had arrived at their homes, 'let us sit down, now, and I'll tell you what we'll do. You tell me of my faults, and I'll tell you of yours, and so we will know how to go about mending of 'em.'

'Good!' says brother Tom. 'Well, you begin.'

'No, you begin, brother Joe.'

'Well, in the first place, you know, brother Tom, you will lie.'

'Crick!' goes brother Tom's paw, and a considerable of a scrimmage ensues, until, in the course of about ten minutes, neither being able to come to time, reformation is postponed sine die.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawkes, of the Methodist Epis. Church.

PULASKI HOUSE, Savannah, Ga., Jan. 6, 1856.

Honored Sir: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them, I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, Baton Rouge, La., 5 Dec., 1855.

Dr. Ayer: I have been entirely cured, by your Pills, of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for years.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skillful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects, and fewer yet the communities anywhere which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the Cherry Pectoral saves more lives by the consumptions it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you and cure your colds while they are curable, nor neglect them until no human skill can master the inexorable canker that, fastened on the vitals, eats your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and as they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.
